St. Louis de Montfort Mission Statement
We are called to be and to become a loving family centered in Jesus.
We acknowledge and accept that each of us is unique and has special gifts from the Holy Spirit.
We wish to nurture, develop and share these gifts within and for the Body of Christ.
Having been called by Baptism into that Body,
We celebrate our relationship in Word, Sacrament and Family Celebration.
We are then sent to call others to Christ through whom we are and what we do.
We recognize Christ’s call to be one in Him and commit ourselves to his way of life.

Fr. Aidan Peter Writes:

HAPPY GRANDPARENT’S DAY!

This weekend we honor Grandparents. I only ever knew my two Grandmothers; my Grandfathers were dead or gone before I was born. There are so many affectionate titles for our Grandparents, mine were “Granny and Nana”; there’s also Grammy, Gangan, Abuelita, Gramps, Poppop, Grandpa, Abuelo, etc. It’s all about affection. Indeed that is really the role of the grandparent, to pour out affection on their grandchildren. Grandparents can be indulgent, perhaps, to a fault. This is also the reason why when a grandparent has to be a little disciplinary it can be somewhat shocking to the child… “Hey you used to be on my side!!”

Perhaps from the church’s point of view we should consider that the role of affection be honored; as the proverb says, “You catch more flies with honey than vinegar”. Grandparents are able, perhaps, to show the affectionate side of God’s love more readily than parents who also have to deal with the training and discipline, organization, education, etc. of the child too. That’s not to say that parents are not affectionate, but Grandparents, let’s face it, can get away with stuff parents can’t…we all know that…and it’s a good thing…though like all things “in moderation”. I think we can all agree that real affection is so nurturing and is so very much needed in today’s rough and tumble world.

I am away in UK in my role as Vicar General of the Josephites from Thursday 5th until Wed the 18th of September.

Soon there will be trees in the planters that are now in the gathering area, and then the benches will be put back in the proper arrangement. I want to thank all the donors who have helped provide for the refurbishment of the planters and the Gathering Area. God bless them all.

God bless, Fr A-P

KEEP 'EM SAFE
Teach your children the concept of “total body safety” Teaching the concept of “total body safety” encompasses all parts of the body, including the head, mouth, legs and arms, which are usually overlooked. Child abuse perpetrators can use any part of the body to stimulate a child or young person, or to arouse themselves. Additionally, it is important to stress to teens the importance of “total body safety” in their relationships with others. Tell them, “Just because a person is a close friend, or even a girlfriend or boyfriend, that does not give them a right to touch you in a way that makes you feel uncomfortable.” For more information, get a copy of the VIRTUS® article “Beyond the myth of the bathing suit,” at http://www.la-archdiocese.org/org/protecting/Pages/VIRTUS-Current-Online-Articles.aspx.

MANTENLO S A SALVO
Enseñe a sus hijos el concepto de “seguridad de todo el cuerpo” La enseñanza del concepto de “seguridad de todo el cuerpo” abarca todas las partes del cuerpo, incluida la cabeza, la boca, las piernas y los brazos, que generalmente se pasan por alto. Los perpetradores de abuso infantil pueden usar cualquiera parte del cuerpo para estimular a un niño o a un joven, o para excitarse ellos mismos. Además, es importante repetirle a los adolescentes la importancia de la “seguridad de todo el cuerpo” en sus relaciones con los demás. Digales, “Solo porque una persona es un amigo o amiga cercano/a, o incluso una novia o novio, eso no les da derecho a tocarte de una manera que te haga sentir incómodo/a.” Para obtener más información, busca una copia del artículo de VIRTUS® “Beyond the myth of the bathing suit” (Más allá del mito del traje de baño), en http://www.la-archdiocese.org/org/protecting/Pages/VIRTUS-Current-Online-Articles.aspx.
